THE CHILD AND THE KINGDOM

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 18:1-14; 19:13-15.

GOLDEN TEXT—Suffer little children, and forbid them not to come unto Me: for of such is the kingdom of heaven.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus, the Children's Friend.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus the Friend of Girls and Boys.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Entering the Kingdom.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Sin of Neglecting and Misguiding Children.

I. The Greatest in the Kingdom of Heaven (vv. 1-4).

1. The disciples' question (v. 1).

The prominence given to Peter in connection with the announcement of Christ's purpose to build the church and the payment of tribute with the money in the fish's mouth, provoked jealousy on the part of the other disciples. The transfiguration scene revealed the divine person and the program of His kingdom. Seeing that the kingdom was to come to realization despite the tragedy of the cross, disciples wished to know their place of rank in the kingdom.

2. Jesus' answer (vv. 2-4).

He taught them by placing a little child in their midst.

(1) Condition of entrance into the kingdom (v. 3). The great question was as to whether they were really in the kingdom. Their behavior revealed the fact that they needed conversion. Before they could even see, much less enter into, the kingdom, they must be born from above (John 3:3, 5). (2) Whosoever possesses childlike humility is the greatest (v. 4). The child is dependent, lowly and modest. Those who have been born again, or converted, have these characteristics.

II. The Lord's Identification With His Believing Ones (vv. 5-9).

1. Receiving the believer in Christ's name is receiving Christ (v. 5).

Through faith in Christ we become God's children and so completely is our life interwoven with His that He regards treatment of us as treatment of Himself.

2. The peril of causing a believer to stumble (vv. 6-9).

To cause to stumble means to give occasion for a moral fall. The particular reference was to the carnality and selfishness which were expressing themselves in their contention for preeminence. Their behavior was not only an injury, but a stumbling block to others. Everything causing one to stumble, though it be as vital as hands and feet, should be removed.

III. Believers Are Specially Cared for by the Heavenly Father (vv. 10-14).

1. They are under angelic guardianship (v. 10).

So precious is the believer in God's sight that angelic messengers are provided (Heb. 1:10). These angelic messengers have access to the very throne of God, even beholding His face. So high is the honor bestowed upon believers that the highest angels are sent to guard them.

2. The Son came especially to save such from their lost condition (vv. 11-14).

The Heavenly Father does not will that any one of these should perish. They are objects of the Father's seeking love. The salvation of the humble believer has been secured by the incarnation and the sacrifice of the Good Shepherd.

IV. Jesus Receiving Little Children (Matt. 19:13-15).

We should carefully note the setting of this text. Jesus had been speaking of the sanctity of marriage, which is the bulwark of the home. Into the sacred enclosure of the home comes childhood to complete and ennoble it.

1. Children brought to Jesus (v. 13).

Doubtless they were brought by their parents. Many parents today who are careless as to themselves, desire to bring their children into touch with Jesus Christ.

2. Rebuked by the disciples (v. 13).

They regarded children as too insignificant to engage the Lord's attention. Christ places high value upon children.

3. The disciples rebuked by Christ (v. 14).

These words uttered by the Lord have placed a peculiar dignity upon the child. It is Christlike to care for children and no service in the world pays such large dividends.

4. Christ laid His hands upon the children (v. 15).

ROCKS NEWS

We are all bound to make some mistakes, but we must pay for them. Life has a way of collecting for every mistake we make. A mistake in time is more important than one made in granite. If we could only understand how permanent our mistakes are, perhaps we would make fewer.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Dickerson, of Lynchburg, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Richardson.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Woodall of Lynchburg was visitor here Saturday.

Mrs. W. J. Almond is visiting her son Ned, for a short while.

Rev. Goad filled his regular appointment at Rocks Sunday night with a nice little congregation present.

Miss Jessie Richardson was delightfully surprised Saturday evening when her young friends began to gather at her home. Various games were played, all present enjoyed themselves very much.

We are glad to state Kermit Paulett is improving nicely.

WOODLAND

Mr. Josh Harvey and family and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Carey, of Lynchburg, Mr. and Mrs. Will Harvey and baby of Madisonville, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Harvey, Sunday.

Mr. Will Marshall and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Newman of Lynchburg, were dinner guests of Mrs. E. G. Cheatman, Sunday.

Mr. Wert Woodson, Messers. Paul and Sammie Woodson, Misses Mernice and Virginia Woodson spent Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Berkley Nash of Lynchburg.

Miss Mildred Marshall was dinner guest of Miss Beatrice Woodson, Sunday.

Miss Katherine Caldwell spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Caldwell.

Mr. Walter Coleman and daughters Misses Geraldine, Helen, Lucy and Mary and son Twyman, all saw "Sunny Side Up" in Lynchburg last week.

BENT CREEK

The death Angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Dixon on Sunday, March 30th., and took little Elizabeth, age about four years. She was only sick one week. The doctor in attendance said the trouble came from her teeth. Her death was a shock to the family and friends. Her remains were interred at Maple Grove by the side of her little brother Grover Lee who died about 4 years ago. Rev. Gray Liggan conducting the service. The floral designs were carried by eight little girl friends of the family. The grave was covered. May the parents of this little girl console themselves with the thought that she has gone where sin is not known and in a few short fleeting years they too may join her.

On March 30th., at Clifton Forge hospital, Archer H. Stephens, passed quietly away. He had been sick for several months. His friends knew that he was a sick man, but were surprised to find his disease was cancer of the stomach. He professed faith in Christ and united with Maple Grove church two and a half years ago. He was faithful to his church and died trusting in the promises of God. His remains were placed in their last resting place on 1st day of April, Rev. G. L. Liggan conducting the service. Pall-bearers were all nearly connected to the family — the flowers were beautiful and were carried by eight lady friends of the family.

The archer was about 43 years of age. He leaves a wife and four little children to mourn their loss. Pathetic indeed it must have been when his brother, Geo. P. Stephens was summond to his bed-side and he asked him to look after his wife and babies. He also told him he was ready, he did not fear death.

The sick of this community are thought to be improving.

Miss Fannie Dixon is visiting friends in Lynchburg this week.

Richard Coleman, Marshall and Milton Hunter and George Dixon who are with the C. and O. force in Hinton, W. Va., visited friends in Appomattox Sunday.

Messers Foster and Marks who have been looking after Pine Inn, will take a vacation after April 10th; that date winds up the inspection of pine ties. This pine tie business has brought men here that live twelve and fifteen miles away.

PELLAGRA

Last week while administering toxin-antitoxin, I saw a little boy only five years old with what appeared to be a bad case of sunburn on his face and back of the neck and hands. This condition had lasted for many days. His parents attributed it to the effect of the sun, but it was a well developed case of Pellagra. Pellagra is known as one of the "deficiency" diseases because it is due to lack of certain substances in the diet. This little boy was well nourished, probably quite up to normal weight, but he had for many months been eating a diet which lacked one of the all-important vitamins. In his particular case there was at the time no symptoms other than the sunburn, but if left alone he would be apt to suffer colicky pains in the abdomen, slight diarrhea, sore mouth and tongue, great loss of strength and in more advanced cases there are usually mental symptoms.

The prevention and cure of the disease may be affected by a diet rich in milk, eggs and fresh meats. Fruits and green vegetables are also important articles of the diet, and it has been found that yeast is rich in the vitamin which prevents and cures Pellagra. Under conditions such as those found in the Southside Health District it is cheaper and better for the family to keep a good cow and furnish the children with an abundance of milk—sweetmilk and buttermilk, and good butter. A sufficien quantity of these with almost any other diet will keep children in a healthy condition. If you have, or know, a child that suffers from unusual sunburn on ordinary exposure in the spring of the year, get him to a physician for examination. This is the most noticeable early symptom of Pellagra, and this disease has caused more than a thousand deaths in one of our Southern states in a single year.

W. A. Frumfield, Director
Southside Health District.

MODERN ELECTRIC HOT WATER SERVICE NOW AVAILABLE TO CITIZENS OF APPOMATTOX

Civilization can be defined in terms of the use man has made of the raw materials and forces at his command. The use of fuels for heating and cooking and water heating, can be traced through the numerous stages of open fire, fire-place, wood and coal stoves, gas and electric heat. In each step convenience and comfort have been dominent in inducing the change.

From primitive times, when water was warmed by hot stones dropped into it, up through the time of the picturesque fireplace with singing kettle, and later the water-back in the coal range, to the present, older methods have been discarded because of inconvenience, dirt, unreliability and numerous other disadvantages.

The heating of water has now reached its greatest development in the complete line of Hotpoint Electric Water Heaters, embodying features not found in any other heaters and providing adequate, dependable and economical hot water service.

The standard maintained in our modern homes, require a generous supply of hot water. Bathing, shaving, dish-washing, laundering, house-cleaning, all demand hot water in varying amounts at various temperatures and at different times during the day.

Millions of houses wired for electric service evidence the general desire for more convenience and comfort in the home.

The test of a modern device is its convenience. What can excel the convenience of a supply of hot wter wherein the heater can be entirely forgotten. This is only possible with the electric water heater. No fires to tend, no ashes to clean away, no trips to the basement to light a heater, only the turn of a faucet, and hot water is yours.

The latest Hotpoint Electric Hot Water Heater is entirely automatic, and the service is available to Appomattox, made possible by the off-peak rate of 1-2 per kilowatt hour for water heating, recently published by Virginia Public Service Company.

The Mt. Comfort Community League will entertain at Mt. Comfort School on the evening of April 18th.

A lawn party to begin at six. A playlet and other features at eight. Every body invited to come and enjoy the fun, something special.

WILD ROSE MOST POPULAR FLOWER

More Than Million Votes Cast in Contest.

New York.—The people of the United States named the wild rose as the national flower in the American Nature association campaign just ended. Rechecking of the more than a million votes shows the wild rose rolled up a total of 402,811 votes out of the 1,067,672 votes cast. It gained a plurality of more than 150,000 votes over the columbine, the nearest contender.

The wild rose won in every state except Colorado, Florida, Minnesota and Washington.

Pennsylvania, with 111,256 votes; Ohio, with 78,648; New York, with 63,835, and Wisconsin, with 59,779, led the country in number of ballots cast. Washington supported the columbine more vigorously than any other state.

Only seven votes separate the rose and its rival in South Dakota. More than 6,000 people, Americans living outside the 48 states, are represented in the "No State" column.

The columbine had 261,451 backers, who threatened, during early December, to sweep under the rose in a flood of votes. When the contest closed, however, the leader was still gaining.

More than 65 per cent of the vote was divided between the two leaders and there is no question of these being the national favorites. The violet, goldenrod, American beauty rose, phlox, daisy, dogwood and mountain laurel, which finished in the order listed, never had a chance of victory. All other flowers received but three and one-half per cent of the total.

The wild rose, despite criticisms to this effect, is not the flower of Ireland; that emblem is the cultivated rose. The campaign did not designate one particular variety of wild rose, but left it possible for each community to feel that its local representative of the genus was the choice of the country.

Bethel College Co-Eds Seeking Dates by Ads

Newton, Kan.—The co-eds of Bethel college, located here, are apparently lonesome and they have admitted it.

After having admitted it, they have set about to remedy the situation by seeking attention from the male members of the collegiate world. The girls used the student paper, the Bethel Collegian, and in their advertisement asked eligible men to call at the "girls hangout."

Not only have the co-eds advertised for "dates" but they have added special attractions to the dormitory. All have "chipped in" to buy a number of card games. The advertisement suggested "that the boys were cordially invited to come and participate in these games."

To add to the attractiveness of the dormitory a "fat woman's club" has been organized for the purpose of attaining boyish figures. Members are exercising daily and dieting.

Collector Finds Dagger in 'Red Sultan's' Scepter

Paris.—Recently a Parisian antiquarian was handling one of his most prized possessions, the gold and jade scepter of Abdul Hamid the Second, the "Red Sultan" of Turkey. He suddenly heard a click and, to his great astonishment, drew forth from the scepter head a glittering dagger.

The discovery recalled many stories of the sultan, who was called the "Great Assassin" because of his frightful massacre of Italian and Armenian subjects and who never dared sleep in a bed because he feared assassination for himself.

Manx Cat Owner Takes Insurance for Liability

Leominster, Mass.—Lawrence F. Marshall has insured himself against personal liability that might result from his Manx cat scratching or biting anything. A Hartford (Conn.) company issued the policy after securing a veterinarian's voucher that the cat was in good health.

The policy stipulates $5,000 as maximum for injuries to or for the death of one person and $10,000 for injuries to or for the death of more than one. The cat is a male, weighs 14 pounds, and is eighteen months old.

U. S. Parley Reporters Give British Thrill

London.—The freedom with which the American newspaper correspondents approach the members of their delegation to the five-power conference astonishes and, at the same time, amuses the columnist of a well-known London daily.

"It is a constant delight to me," writes the commentator, "to see and hear the American newspaper specialists at the naval conference approaching their own delegates—the big men who are trying to agree on small navies.

"The correspondents are like so many small submarines suddenly bobbing up from nowhere and confronting these political battleships fearlessly—and the statesmen like it, too. It is brotherly, natural, homelike."

At 60 miles an hour you travel 88 feet a second.
